COX AND ROOSEVELT CONFER AT COLUMBUS

Presidential Candidate Tells Big Crowd of Welcomers He Looks To Sunrise

(By Associated Press)
Columbus, O., July 13.—Governor James M. Cox, democratic presidential nominee, addressed several thousand men and women most of them from Columbus, who gathered at the State Capitol Monday to greet him upon his return to his office since his nomination at San Francisco. It had been planned to hold the informal reception in the rotunda of the State House, but the crowd was so large that the speech was delivered from the steps of the Capitol.

Reviewing his three terms as Chief Executive of Ohio, Cox declared he had never broken confidence with the people of this commonwealth.

The Governor said that it would be his purpose to "look to the sunrise rather than the sunset."

"I have the deepest conviction that the guarantee of continued progressive government will be adopted by the people of this nation in the election of Mr. Roosevelt and myself and that it will be but an expression of the nation's golden dawn of tomorrow rather than the twilight zone of yesterday."

After his brief address Governor Cox went to the station to personally meet his running mate, Franklin D. Roosevelt, who planned to spend a few hours here while en route from San Francisco to Washington.

Mr. Roosevelt arrived at 1:40 o'clock and with Gov. Cox went directly to the executive mansion, where they held their conference.

Mr. Roosevelt announced following the conference, that both he and the Governor had decided that they would consider no state as being hopeless and that they would carry the fight into every state during the coming campaign.

This was the first definite announcement coming from the heads of the ticket since their nomination. "Both the Governor and myself are not going to consider any state hopeless. We intend to go into every one," Mr. Roosevelt said.

Mr. Roosevelt also reiterated Gov. Cox's recent intimation that the campaign would be carried into the West at an early date. He said he expected to stake the stump immediately after his official notification. The notification ceremonies, he said, he hoped would be at his home in Hyde Park, New York.

He also stated that he expected to resign as Assistant Secretary of the Navy about August 1, or immediately after the return of Secretary Daniels from Alaska, desired to begin preparation of his notification speech.

OPIE REID FOR COX
Lexington, Ky., July 13.—Opie Reid, of Chicago, famous novelist and lecturer, who is here for a lecture engagement, in an interview predicts the election of Governor Cox, Democratic nominee for president, because "Cox has strong party organization behind him and the Democrats have a platform this year which approaches issues of the campaign fearlessly." Mr. Reid is a Republican and knows both presidential candidates personally.

MOUNTAIN WOLF KILLED NEAR CITY

A gray mountain wolf which has been playing havoc with lambs, turkeys and chickens of the city since early spring, came to grief Tuesday morning when John Norris, residing adjacent to Lake Reba, two miles east of the city, killed the animal with a well directed shot. The animal is believed to have been in captivity at one time, since it wore a collar which had become tight about its neck. The wolf, which has been seen in various neighborhoods for several months past, always eluded pursuers, and no dog could be made to trail it. A few mornings ago Mr. Norris discovered it taking hold of a large gobbler in his poultry yard, but its annihilation of the turkey was but the work of an instant and it was away, true to its wild form and disappeared before pursuit could be given. There have been hunting parties formed for the purpose of hunting it down, but to no avail. The animal was recently seen on the farm of John Doty, where it partook of chickens and a number of lambs and very recently was seen on the farm of St. Tudor, almost within the city limits of Richmond. It would kill but devour only a small portion of the fowl or animal.

FAIRCHILD APPEALS THE SUFFRAGE CASE

(By Associated Press)
Washington, July 13.—Justice Bailey in the District Supreme Court today dismissed the injunction proceedings brought by Charles Fairchild, of New York, president of the American Constitutional League, to prevent the promulgation of the ratification of the suffrage amendment, and to test the validity of the equal suffrage law. The Court held it was without authority to inquire into action of state legislatures in ratifying the suffrage amendment, and had no authority to pass upon the validity of such amendment. Fairchild noted an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States.

FRIENDS ARE PROUD OF MRS. HARDING

Marion, Ohio, Folks Think She'd Make Fine Mistress of the White House

(By Associated Press)
Marion, O., July 13.—Many women of Marion, girlhood acquaintances, friends or chums, of Mrs. Warren G. Harding, wife of the republican nominee for the presidency, are enthusiastic over the possibility that she may reside at the White House. They say she is well fitted for the duties of a president's wife because "she has a mind of her own, generally manages to get what she wants, is thoroughly democratic, likes to give and go to parties, is interested in a hundred and one things, knows how to talk to every one including men and once she knows you, always knows you."

Some Marion residents say that Mrs. Harding has contributed in important ways to Mr. Harding's success in life.

Mrs. Harding was born here, August 15, 1860, and was reared in this city where she attended grammar and high schools. Afterwards she studied music at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music.

As Florence Kling, daughter of Amos Kling, banker and one of the most wealthy men in Marion, she is described by a girlhood friend Mrs. Margaret Younkins, as "one of the best horse-women I ever seen." She rode and drove more like a man than a girl," said Mrs. Younkins, who said she was more accustomed in those days to seeing Florence Kling, dashing swiftly up the street on Billy, her saddle horse, than walking with the other girls of her social circle. Other girlhood friends of Mrs. Harding told of the times when they used to "pile into Florence's phaeton and ride with perfect confidence behind her speedy Billy."

Florence Kling was married to Warren G. Harding, then a newspaper publisher, on July 8, 1891, in their present home in Mount Vernon Avenue, Marion. For more than 12 years, until illness prevented, Mrs. Harding was circulation manager of the Star, her husband's newspaper. In addition she was the registration bureau for complaints, advertising manager and angel to the newboys.

When Mrs. Harding returns to Marion and meets any of the boys who carried papers for Senator Harding when she was circulation manager, she pats them on the back, it is said, and remarks: "Here is one of my boys—he will be famous one of these days."

Mrs. Harding has been a member of "The Twigs" a card club of Marion, for many years.

Stirring Times In Chicago When
Future Plans Are Unfolded
—LaFollette Favorite

(By Associated Press)
Chicago, July 13.—Bulletin—Amalgamation of the principal groups attempting to form a new political party was effected here today. The Committee of 48 voted to join the National Labor Party. A large non-partisan League group and delegation of single taxers marched into the Labor convention and announced they had decided to amalgamate in a "United New Party," the name given the newly combined factions on motion of Max Hayes, of Cleveland, chairman of the Labor Party National Committee. Nomination of a presidential candidate of the "United New Party" is made a special order of business for the session tonight. Senator LaFollette, of Wisconsin, apparently continued to be the most popular candidate for the presidential nominee.

SUES FOR MASON & HANGER STOCK

(From Lexington Leader)

Judge Charles Kerr heard arguments this morning in circuit court in the suit of T. H. Coleman of Harrodsburg, against H. B. Hanger, Silas Mason and John J. Watts, claiming the right to purchase 200 shares of stock in the Mason and Hanger Contracting Company and a one-fifth interest in a million and a half dollars of profits on government contracts of the Mason and Hanger Co.

Coleman is represented by Helm Bruce, of Louisville, Allen and Duncan, of Lexington, and the defendant company by Humphrey, Middleton and Crawford, of Louisville, Hunt, Northcutt & Bush, of Lexington, and J. J. Greenleaf and J. A. Sullivan, of Richmond.

Mr. Crawford argued the case for the defendants and Mr. Bruce presented the claims of the plaintiff.

Coleman claims that he had an agreement with Mr. Hanger by which he was to have charge of certain work at Camp Zachary Taylor and that he was to be given one-fifth of the profits from the company's work for the government, besides being permitted to buy 200 shares of stock in the company at a price to be agreed upon later. The judge took the case under advisement.

He did not state whether he would be able to remain in the city long enough to inspect the other roads, expected to be taken over by the state within a short time, of permanent maintenance.

BIG INSTITUTE WELL UNDER WAY

Big List of Teachers Assigned To Madison County Schools—
Where They Will Teach

The first day of the teachers' institute at Eastern Normal developed an attendance the most complete of any held in Madison county in years. One of the direct causes for the attendance was the compulsory clause inserted in the instructions to the county superintendents by State Superintendent George Colvin.

Late Monday night there was a host arrived from various parts, some coming in from afar, having been on annual vacation, but eager to get to the institute, although a little late.

The organization of the institute body was one of the first features of interest during the opening day, and this resulted in Miss Mary Dalton, of Richmond, being selected as secretary, in which official capacity she has served for a number of years in a most efficient manner. She was given an assistant this year in the person of Mr. Cosby Duncan. The record and official routine work is being handled in a masterly manner.

Prof. S. S. Myers is in charge of the music and Prof. W. B. Ward, with enough humor and pathos in his lectures to entertain, formed an interesting program. Part of both forenoon and afternoon was given to teaching of rote songs.

Regarding the songs, Prof. Ward said: "We cannot go back of the cradle of these children, but we can stand between these and the next cradles."

There are seven kinds of institutes, as follows: Inspirational, respiration, perspiration, inflation, deflation, observational and idealical. The first and last types are preferred.

"Institutes are valuable," Mr. Ward explained, "to teachers in a social way, and it is a pooling of opinions and sentiments; get acquainted with and interested in each other. In a professional way, it has an enlarging vision of consecration, belief in our work and in ourselves, giving, taking and compromising."

"In an academic way, not fractions, but school problems; not cube root, but acute economics; not foreign bills of exchange, but how pay our bills; not deserts, but gardens and orchards."

"To the children, it is reflex and indirect; what rays will you reflect?"

To the county, through the reaction of the schools upon the various communities, it always means just what the teachers want it to mean.

"There are several types of mind: The fuzzy type, the sieve type, the funnel type, the window type, the sponge type and the clam and terrapin type. Each of these types is peculiar to itself and all these types are found in most audiences. They are found in every school."

"Too many people are so busy making a living that they forget to make a life. Noble inspirations and fine sentiments will live long after our money is all melted."

The discussions of the new high school law and the probability of meeting its requirements consumed the latter part of the afternoon. The instructor was loud in his praise of the fine spirit manifested by the county superintendent, the Normal School people, and especially by the teachers.

The following were assignments made for Madison county:

SELF-DEFENSE IS HUSBAND'S CLAIM

(By Associated Press)

Louisville, Ky., July 13.—"I did that in self-defense," exclaimed Jack Wiseman, 54, a reporter at the jail today when asked why he shot Mrs. Virginia Thompson, 40, his former wife, at her home on the Flat Lick road yesterday. Wiseman voluntarily came to the jail this morning. Wiseman related "she fired at me first, but missed;" then he "grabbed the gun, shot three times and she fell." He said "Mrs. Thompson kept making threats to kill me."

Wiseman said he married Mrs. Thompson in June, 1919, and that it was her fifth marriage. He claimed she was not divorced from her fourth husband, named Thompson. Wiseman said she threatened his life if he got a divorce. This led to the shooting. Mrs. Thompson is under treatment at the city hospital.

MADISON PETITION MAY BEAR FRUIT

Special Elementary School Examination May Be Held In the Near Future

State Superintendent of Public Instruction George Colvin, who recently had his attention called to the scarcity of teachers by B. F. Edwards, superintendent of Madison county schools, who asked for a special examination in order to supply the deficiency, forwarded the latter a letter Tuesday to the effect that the information had been received, greatly appreciated, and added that the special examination in the elementary grades would doubtless be called for the near future.

The prompt action of the state official in recognizing the petition from Madison county was surprising to many, however, Mr. Edwards believed this would be the case, since the importance of this county is recognized as a school center and the starting point of many teachers. The information sent to Richmond was to the effect that definite data regarding the proposed examination soon would be forthcoming within a few days. Mr. Colvin also stated that it would be held in ample time to secure teachers by the time the fall session was called to order.

There were many who dropped the courses they were pursuing when they found their grades so sadly lacking some time ago, but it is the general belief that they will renew their studies now with brighter prospects of securing a foothold in the line of teaching. There are also many who are anxious to procure life certificates and many of them are studying diligently in order to procure the coveted papers.
